

JEREMIAH 48 vs 1

Jeremiah wrote the longest book of prophecy in the OT. Much of what he wrote was current history when he lived in 600BC; nonetheless... a closer look at what Jeremiah recorded serves a dual purpose not only speaking to faithless Judah and Jerusalem and what lessons caused the LORD to send them into Babylonian captivity; but also as a reminder to the faithless in both HOUSES Israel and Judah wherever they would go throughout history... until Messiah comes to rule with a rod of iron.

Moab is modern Arabia, cousins of Israel and Judah,

¹ Against Moab thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Woe to Nebo! for it is destroyed: Kiriathaim is perplexed and taken: Misgab is confused and appalled.

² There will be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also you will be cut down, O Madmen; the sword will pursue you.

³ A voice of crying will be from Horonaim, destroying and great destruction.

⁴ Moab is destroyed; her little ones have sounded a distress cry to be heard.

⁵ For by the ascent of Luhith continual weeping will ascend; for at the descent of Horonaim the enemies have sounded a distress cry and destruction.

⁶ Run, save your lives, and be like the lonely juniper in the wilderness,

⁷ for you leaned on your works and on your treasures, you will also be taken: and Chemosh will go forth to captivity together with his priests and his officials.

⁸ And the destroyer will come over every city, and no city will escape: the valley also will perish, and the plain will be destroyed, as the LORD has spoken.

⁹ Give wings to Moab, that she may run and get away: for its cities will be deserted, without any to remain in it.

¹⁰ Cursed is the one who does the work of the LORD negligently, and cursed is the one who withholds a sword from blood.

¹¹ Moab has been at ease from her youth, and settled on her lees / settled on her scummy residue, and has not been emptied from vessel to vessel, nor has she gone to captivity: so her rancid taste remains in her, and her stench has not changed.

JEREMIAH 48 vs 1

12 So indeed, the days come, says the LORD, that I will send wanderers to her, who will cause her to wander, and will empty their containers, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh, like the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel -- their confidence.

14 How did you claim, We are mighty and strong men for the war?

15 Moab is destroyed, and gone up from her cities, and her chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter, says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab will soon come, her calamity hurries.

17 All you who have lived around her, mourn for her; and all who know her name, ask, How was the strong staff -- that beautiful rod shattered!

18 O daughter dwelling in Dibon, come down from your glory, sit on your parched ground; for the destroyer of Moab will come on you, and he will destroy your strong holds.

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and check it out; ask him who flees, and her who escapes, and ask, What happened?

20 Moab is perplexed; for it is shattered: wail and cry; go tell the Arnon, Moab is destroyed,

21 and judgment has come against the Arabah; on Holon, on Jah-zah, and on Mephaath,

22 against Dibon, Nebo, and Beth-diblathaim,

23 against Kiriathaim, Beth-gamul, and Beth-meon,

24 against Kerioth, Bozrah, and on all the cities of the land of Moab, near and far.

25 The power of Moab is cut off, and her arm is shattered, says the LORD.

26 You make her a drunk: for she exaggerated herself against the LORD: Moab will also wallow in her vomit, and she also will become a joke to laugh at.

27 For was not Israel a joke to you? Wasn't he found among thieves? for each time you spoke of him, you skipped for joy.

28 O you who remain in Moab, evacuate the cities, and remain among the cliffs, and be like the dove that nests beyond the opening of the gap.

JEREMIAH 48 vs 1

29 We have heard the pride of Moab, (she is exceeding proud) her loftiness, her arrogance, her pride, and the snootiness of her heart.

30 I know her fury, says the LORD; but it will not be so; her lies have had no effect.

31 So I will wail for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab; My heart will mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for you more than weeping for Jazer: your branches stretch across the sea, they reached to the sea of Jazer: but upon your summer fruits and grape harvest the destroyer has fallen.

33 And joy and gladness is taken from the fruitful field – even the land of Moab, and I have made the wine to fail from the wine presses: no one will tread them with joyful shouting; their shouts will not be with joy.

34 From the outcry of Heshbon to Elealeh, even to Jahaz, their voice is heard, from Zoar even to Horonaim: for the waters also of Nimrim will be desolate.

35 And I will cause Moab to cease, says the LORD, she who sacrifices on the high places, and who burns incense to her gods.

36 So My heart will cry for Moab like flutes, and My heart will cry like flutes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he has gotten have perished / notice the Lord does not use the trumpet, so His cry won't be heard by many; most likely by any.

37 For heads are shaven, beards are clipped: hands are gashed, and sackcloth covers the loins.

38 And from all the housetops of Moab, and in its streets, there will be great howling: for I have shattered Moab like a pointless vessel, says the LORD.

39 How it devastated! They will wail, How Moab turned her back – she is now ashamed! so Moab will be a joke, and a terror to all around her.

40 For thus says the LORD; Indeed, one will fly swift like an eagle, and spread its wings against Moab.

41 Keriath is taken, and the strong holds were surprised, and the heart of the warriors in Moab will be like the heart of a woman giving birth.

42 And Moab is destroyed as a nation, for her insolences against the LORD.

43 Panic, the pit, and traps await you, O inhabitants of Moab, says the LORD.

KJV-lite™ VERSES

www.ilibros.net/KJV-lite.html

44 Flee in terror, and fall into the pit; crawl out and be caught in a snare: for I will bring on Moab, the time of their visitation, says the LORD / and He isn't coming for tea and cookies

45 They fled for shelter in Heshbon but cower: for a blaze began in Heshbon, and spread to the palace of Sihon, destroying the head of Moab, consuming its riotous revelers.

46 Woe / how terrible it will be for you, O Moab! the people of Chemosh perish: for your god has left your sons to flight; and your daughters to a captive's plight. / Dr. James Moffett

47 Yet I will bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, says the LORD / so they will be around when the time of the Gentiles comes to an end, which means they are still around now

Here ends the judgment of Moab.
